We are honored to celebrate more than a decade of working together, learning together, and sharing together at Four Directions. Without the focused commitment and dedication of Tribal leaders, behavioral health directors and counselors, education and prevention experts, gaming industry representatives, and organizations such as the Evergreen Council on Problem Gambling, to improving access to programs and services that really make a difference, we simply would not be where we are today.

Where we are is a very exciting place. Treatment services, prevention and awareness programs and, of course, important training opportunities such as Four Directions, continue to grow in quality and to reach more and more people in our communities. There is still much work to be done and many goals that require continued collaboration and support. Ensuring both greater awareness of and enhanced access to quality treatment and recovery supports is crucial. Continuing to look at the health of our communities as a whole and every member of our communities as individuals in a holistic way requires working together with physicians, mental health providers, educators, and regulators to bridge health and human services.

Four Directions is a starting point for some of those changes — and with your help, we want to do our best to make sure we are setting off in the right direction. We have more than a decade of good work at Four Directions behind us, and an exciting, if challenging, future ahead of us. We’re very pleased to have you here to learn and share in order to help others on their journey, as well.

Thank you!

Evergreen Council on Problem Gambling

The Evergreen Council on Problem Gambling (ECPG) is dedicated to increasing awareness of public health issues around problem gambling and gaming, expanding the availability and integration of services, and supporting advocacy, research, and programs for education, prevention, treatment, recovery, and responsible gambling and gaming. We provide confidential support for Washington State residents through our 24-hour Problem Gambling Helpline (800.547.6133), available through phone, text, and chat.

The Council offers support for residential and outpatient treatment for problem gamblers and family members, as well as education and public awareness programs to a wide variety of community and professional groups through presentations, including qualified training for certification and continuing education hours. The Council supports Recovery Community services, including peer/coach trainings. ECPG works with the Gaming Industry to provide employee training and responsible gaming policy and program development, and offers a Responsible Gaming Certification program.

The Evergreen Council on Problem Gambling is pleased to work with schools, civic and social service organizations, and others to develop and tailor education and awareness programs. For more information call 360.352.6133 or visit www.evergreencpg.org.
Swinomish Indian Tribal Community

We are a community of Coast Salish people descended from the Skagit and Samish Watersheds and surrounding coastal areas and islands. Our ancestors committed to protecting the way of life passed down from generation to generation. The Swinomish Tribe is committed to improving the lives and wellbeing of its Tribal members through social and cultural programs, education, economic development, and resource protection.

didgʷálič Wellness Center

The didgʷálič Wellness Center, owned and operated by the Swinomish Indian Tribal Community, opened on January 8, 2018. Using a unique integrated health care model designed to improve outcomes for all patients, the clinic provides substance use disorder, mental health and gambling counseling, MAT, and primary care. Dramatically reducing day-to-day barriers to participation, we provide transportation and childcare for our patients while they are attending services. Individualized care plans for each patient in a team setting maximize the resources delivered to sustain a life of recovery. With dental services coming soon, didgʷálič Wellness Center is expected to double its capacity starting in October 2020. The Center is open to all community members and is currently serving residents of the surrounding four counties.

“In every community, there is work to be done. In every nation, there are wounds to heal. In every heart, there is the power to do it.”
—Marianne Williamson

Community connects us, supports us, and is essential to our well being. As we come together at Four Directions, we share the rich resources of wisdom and experience as we work with and learn from each other. It is also important to take time to share laughter, break bread, and celebrate. This year’s Community Event celebrates the rich heritage of the past, the successes and challenges of our present, and the hopes and dreams for our future.

This special event; this beautiful meal; this wonderful celebration is a chance to share as a community, enjoy traditional and contemporary music, dance, and performance art.

The Wellbriety Movement – Rebuilding Healthy Families: Principles of Family Change
Don Coyhis

This workshop will explore how to mind map a vision for healthy families. Participants will learn to develop skills and be able to explain the process for creating a vision, and demonstrate how to mind map a vision of a healthy family based upon the needs and fears of family members regarding children. What does it mean to restore the cycle of life? Participants will take away a greater understanding of the Cycle of Life and the knowledge that culture is a tool for prevention.

Harm Reduction for Problem Gamblers: Clinical Considerations and HR Therapy

Wiley Harwell, D.Min, LPC, ICGC-II and Ty Lostutter, PhD

Harm Reduction (HR) is an evidence-based therapy that respects the client’s autonomy to make treatment decisions and includes the range of treatment goals including abstinence to controlled gambling. This interactive presentation will review the theory/philosophy of HR treatment to clinical strategies to help address the client’s gambling behaviors.

10:15 am - Noon
EVENT CENTER 5

Harnessing Hope: Youth Empowerment in Our Communities

Panel: Brad Galvin, MS, CDP, LMHC, ICGC-I, Julie Hynes, MA, CPS, and Swil Kanim

Are you eager to expand the prevention work your organization is doing with youth? Are you happy with the work that’s being done but want some new ideas? Join our intertribal panel as we share successful strategies in youth prevention and discuss the challenges to creating and implementing programs that benefit our precious youth.

Noon - 1:30 pm
EVENT CENTER 1-2

Addiction and Community in Turbulent Times

Bruce Alexander, PhD

For years, there was a protracted debate about whether problem gambling should be considered an addiction. A debate is also underway over problematic involvement with video games, social media, love, pornography, and a thousand other harmful habits. The emerging consensus seems to be that addiction needs to be defined very broadly as there are many habits that people use in an attempt to adapt to the dislocation of living in a fragmented society. It follows that not only do people affected by addiction need to change the way they live, but also that society needs to be made more liveable.
1:30 - 3:15 pm
EVENT CENTER 3

Dis-ordered Thinking: The Role of Gambling-Related Cognitive Distortions in the Development and Maintenance of Gambling Disorders and its Treatment

David Ledgerwood, PhD, LP

Cognitive distortions are a prominent feature of gambling disorder, and reductions in distortions are essential for treatment success. Dr. Ledgerwood will define cognitive distortions, provide examples of different types of distortions, and explain how cognitive distortions change throughout treatment. He will also describe recent research into strategies for reducing cognitive distortions in treatment.

1:30 - 3:15 pm
EVENT CENTER 4

The Importance of and Best Practices in Voluntary Self-Exclusion Programs

Panel: Rebecca Beardsley, BBA, Shannon Dictson, BS, Wiley Harwell, D.Min, LPC, ICGC-II, and Chris Stearns

Self-exclusion programs provide a way for people to voluntarily ban themselves from a gaming venue. These programs can be mandated by the government or voluntarily established by casinos and other gaming operators in partnership with state councils on problem gambling, and Tribal and State gambling regulators. Research supports the concept of self-exclusion as a gateway to treatment. This panel will review some of the best practices of existing self-exclusion programs and updates on the early planning for Washington’s state-wide self-exclusion program.

1:30 - 3:15 pm
EVENT CENTER 5

Certified Peer Counselor/Recovery Coach Bridge Training

Panel: Pattie Marshall, BS, Katie Pratt, and Ann Rider, MSW

Exciting news for Recovery Coaches and Peer Counselors in Washington — Bridge Training has begun! What is Bridge Training? Bridge Training is a 3-day training for Recovery Coaches who want to obtain the Peer Counselor certification. Learn more about the roles of Certified Peer Counselors and Recovery Coaches, the support services they provide, and what’s billable in behavioral health organizations. And what about Medicaid funding — what are the Washington state requirements? When and where will approved classes be offered? Learn how to register to take the state exam.

Talking Circle Traditions for Treatment Providers
Afternoon Plenary

Gayl Edmunds, LAC and Wiley Harwell, D.Min, LPC, ICGC-II

Talking circles, peacemaking circles, or healing circles are deeply rooted in the traditional practices of Indigenous peoples. Talking Circles foster respectful listening and reflection. Gayl and Wiley will explain the healing tradition of the Talking Circle and how it can be used as a powerful tool for treatment to create a safe, non-judgmental place to engage in sharing authentic personal reactions and feelings that are owned by each individual and acknowledged by others. Attendees are welcome to participate or observe.

Keynote

Swil Kanim

This presentation is designed to gather community members and leaders together to discuss how the knowledge and application of the Elements of Honor relates to powerful leadership. Participants will learn to respond to dishonorable situations in a manner that facilitates honorable exchanges by all concerned. This presentation will emphasize communication and artistic expressions as honorable endeavors that result in positive change, as well as the applicability of the Elements of Honor in daily personal interactions.

Considerations for Culturally Tailoring Treatment with American Indian/Alaska Native People to Improve Engagement and Effectiveness

Kamilla Venner, PhD

In a time when funding agencies require evidence-based treatments, how can we ensure treatment is relevant, appropriate, and most effective? There can be a mismatch when treatments are developed primarily by non-Hispanic White clinical researchers and clients are more culturally traditional and less acculturated. In this talk, cultural considerations to help bridge this gap are presented. Included are considerations of program context as well as treatment specific aspects such as etiological beliefs, holistic well-being, spirituality, community, and cultural identity.

10:30 am - 12:15 pm  EVENT CENTER 4

When Gambling is also a Symptom of Something Else: Coping with Co-occurring Psychiatric Disorders among Problem Gamblers Seeking Treatment

David Ledgerwood, PhD, LP

Gambling disorder usually co-occurs with other psychiatric and substance use disorders, and these co-occurring problems make treatment more challenging. This presentation will outline the importance of assessing and treating co-occurring disorders among gamblers. Strategies for treating co-occurring disorders will also be discussed with a focus on improving quality of life and reducing relapse.

10:30 am - 12:15 pm  EVENT CENTER 5

Current Conditions on Currencies, Controversies, and Convergence in Gaming and Gambling

Julie Hynes, MA, CPS

Trends have increased in recent years with gambling within video games and video game concepts integrated into gambling, as well as various methods of payment to “play.” In this session, we’ll break through the noise of all of the trends to get to what’s most important: what do behavioral health specialists need to know about recent issues in gaming and gambling, and what are some useful tools to keep abreast of, and to help address, the issues?

| 12:15 - 1:45 pm | EVENT CENTER 1-2      | Courage to Heal: Overcoming Fear of Shame Around Getting Mental Health Treatment in a Local Tribal Community
Brad Galvin, LMHC, CDP, NCGC-I
We know it takes great courage for a person to seek help for behavioral health issues, whether it be related to excessive gambling losses, protracted depression after the death of a loved one, or chemical addiction. For many tribal people, the barriers to getting needed help can be particularly significant. Through the use of personal stories and clinical experience, we will examine these barriers and how they can be overcome. | Lunch Plenary |
| 1:45 - 3:30 pm | EVENT CENTER 3        | Intake/Assessment/Screening: What to Use, When, and Why
Tana Russell, CDP, NCTTP, WSCGC-II
Participants in this session will learn to go deeper with gambling screenings, intakes, and assessments. Gambling screening: the pros, the cons, the tools, and how to make them most effective. Goals and purpose of intake, other than the obvious. Things that can get overlooked in gambling assessments, know what is crucial to ask, go beyond collecting criteria. | Clinical / Behavioral Health |
| 1:45 - 3:30 pm | EVENT CENTER 4        | Aging and Gambling – Having Effective Conversations from Engagement to Treatment
Jody Bechtold, LCSW, ICGC-II, BACC, PC
This presentation will teach a collection of outreach activities, clinical interventions, and effective strategies to engage older adults on the topic of gambling. Participants will learn context, best practices, and clinical examples of how to do outreach to older adults, both directly and indirectly, using the topic of gambling. | Trending Topics |
| 1:45 - 3:30 pm | EVENT CENTER 5        | Making Sense Out of the Craziness
Lloyd Attig, CDS-II
In this session, participants will learn holistic exercises that will enlighten their own personal self-awareness. Making sense of the effects of an imbalance in the four areas—mental, physical, emotional, and spiritual health—will give professionals a greater understanding and better results. | Community & Culture |
Join in a Special Talking Circle Event

Wednesday, October 2, from 3:30 - 5 pm in the Wa Walton Event Center (CEUs available)

Gayl Edmunds, LAC and Wiley Harwell, D.Min, LPC, ICGC-II will facilitate this session about the healing tradition of the Talking Circle and how it can be used as a powerful treatment tool.

It is a safe place where all present have the opportunity to speak and share without interruption or judgment. Participants may choose to remain quiet and go within, and can still gain much by being truly present.
THE COWLITZ TRIBE AND ilani ARE PROUD PARTNERS WITH EVERGREEN COUNCIL ON PROBLEM GAMBLING.

ilani maintains a focus on providing the best environment for our guests to engage in responsible recreation. We also know that the allure of gaming can be difficult for some to resist, which can have serious consequences on the physical, emotional and financial health of our community members. The Cowlitz Tribe offers counseling services that can help address the issues associated with compulsive gambling.

We encourage those who think they may need some help in managing their gaming activity to call the Cowlitz Tribe’s counselors at 360-947-2247 to make an appointment.

Keep It Fun: Always Play Responsibly

- Gamble only if it’s fun
- Before you gamble, set a money/time limit and stick to it
- Accept losing as part of the game
- Don’t borrow money to gamble
- Don’t sacrifice other activities with friends and family for gambling
- Don’t gamble to win back losses
